

The High Gospel of Kevanity

Pretext by Moody F' Baby

Taken straight from the group 2 weeks after conception:

"A lot of things have happened over the past 36 hours. The group jumped from a little over 100 members to almost 1.5k, people who have never even met Kevin made songs and pictures and posts about him, and of course, Kevin himself finally saw the group and posted a response.

With all that however, there have been a flurry of mixed responses.

Almost all the responses have been a 50/50 mix of outright/questionable support and the obviously confused "Who the fuck is Kevin?" posts. I hope to address both of these reactions in this post, but I'd like to pay special attention to those who are confused as to what this group is and why they were added, as well as the people who outright hate this group and post quite adamantly about that.

Let me preface this by saying that this group was founded as a joke and was originally intended to have maybe 100 members, not 15x that amount. That being said we (the creators and friends of Kevin) are absolutely overwhelmed and honored and humbled by everyone who participated or is participating in this. That said, its intentions are very real. We do believe that every person deserves to be happy and that not only should they strive to be happy, but that we should support them in their pursuit of it. If looking at this group and the posts makes you laugh or smile because you think it is silly, then that's amazing and is the exact reaction that we want. To brighten someone's day is to brighten our own. If posting in this group or spreading it to your friends/family makes you giddy and excited and happy, then by all means, please do so! You are contributing not only to your own happiness, but you could possibly be donating happiness to others; and that is exactly what this group is about.

Now onto the other stuff.

This is a group that, when looked at from the outside, seems to be dedicated to "worshiping" a man named Kevin Meany for what seems to be no reason whatsoever. On the inside, however, this group is based on happiness and love; living one's life to the absolute fullest and choosing what you do to achieve that, as well as when, where, why, and how you do it. If it helps you to think seriously about this, then, in essence, this group could be described as humanist in basic structure.

Humanism is defined as: "an outlook or system of thought attaching prime importance to humans rather than divine or supernatural matters. Humanist beliefs stress the potential value and goodness of human beings, emphasize common human needs, and seek solely rational ways of solving human problems."

We don't really "Worship" Kevin, but rather, we've made him a symbol of our happiness and love for each other. A symbol, not an idol. So all Christians or Muslims or Hindus, etc. please don't be offended. We don't wish to belittle or antagonize you or your beliefs. We respect everyone equally and wholeheartedly, regardless of belief, orientation, identity, race, gender, etc.

If you don't want to be here, that is perfectly fine. If someone has added you or you joined out of curiosity and decided this isn't for you, you can leave and check the box that says no one will be allowed to add you again.

As for those who have contributed via pictures you've created, songs you've written/performed, or just posts/comments about Kevin and the group:

THANK YOU. You are awesome and you have brought us more happiness, joy, surprise, and amusement than we could ever have asked for. Seriously, from all of us who worked on creating this group, thank you.

That said, we don't intend to stop just because the punch line of our joke to Kevin was delivered. If anything, we want to keep going as far as our little Kevin-y wheels will take us! If you'd like to spread some joy, laughter and happiness, go ahead and add someone to the group that you think will enjoy it.

Thank you again, to everyone. We love you.

P.S. If you'd like a praise Kevin shirt, we only need 12 more people to fulfill the goal on teespring. Each shirt only costs $12 ($15 with shipping) and is the least we could possibly make them cost, which means we are literally making zero dollars from them. This is as non-profit as McDonald's is anti-diabetes. Wait a minute..."

Kevin Cometh and he Say...ith...

"I ain't got words for what the hell this is." He says as he swivels in his chair.

"I don't... I don't know how to say this." he states as he wears the biggest damn grin I've ever seen on his face.

"The fuck is this?" he giggles.

"I'm so confused."

He lets out one more laugh that could bring happiness even to the unholy asshole, Willie.

"That's it, cut it."

Chapter 1

The world is full of sadness and despair. However, the problem is not that people have nothing to look forward to. The problem is that people are only looking forward in time, and not appreciating what they have at the moment. People are so focused on what's going to happen in the long run and what's going to happen when their time here on Earth is up that they are not living a happy and full life. Kevanity has shown me the errors of this mindset. Kevanity has shown me that you need to love everything and be happy with what is going on NOW. Because we live in a world of uncertainty, a world that can be destroyed much quicker than it was created. A world where you do not know what comes next. All you know for fact is the things that are happening around you. You do not need to worry about what life you have after this one because you already know the difference between right and wrong and if you live this life to the best of your abilities then you are already starting whatever life you have after this one on the right foot. We may all be Followers of Kevanity but you will always have the choice on what you want to do. Kevin cannot make these choices for you. And if you have the choice to be happy, why would you not always be happy? I leave you all with this. Look to Kevin not to solve your problems. Look not to Kevin to guide you into some sort of better life after this one. Look to Kevin only to see that it is not as difficult as you might think to appreciate what you have here and now. The choice is yours, Kevinites. Shall you join Kevin in living in the present? Or will you spend this only guaranteed life waiting for the next one that is only hoped for?

First Book of Ginge

Chapter 1, Verse 1:

And lo the people did cry out for forgiveness, and hearing the cries of the people and watching their tears, Kevin let out thine holy words: "Fear not, for the people shall be delivered. Let the men be rested from their labor, and the children from their schooling, and the women from their oppression. All who follow me will be freed of evil and of all bad things, and all shall be allowed to drink the milk of the rabbit." Ye, we worship the father, Kevin.

Chapter 1, Verse 2:

And Kevin so called forth his people to love one another and the world of his beauty, the nature he hath given us all within our Earth, which he doth also created. And the Nay-Sayers spoke out against the word of Kevin, which angered his loyal disciples. But Kevin, the Mightiest of Might, the One Truth, the Absolute Being, the Celestial Lord, the Savior of All In Need of Saving, as well as the Savior All Who Do Not Know They Are In Need of Saving, spoke His word, and said: "Breath in through your mouths and out. Take not your breaths through your bottoms, for that is only for the outward air." And Kevin so took his deep breath through his holy mouth, and in one blow, the Nay-Sayers felt the outward air of his holy bottom, and their mouths were closed.

Chapter 1, Verse 3:

The people praised and worshipped Kevin, giving him glory and bringing grace to his name, and Kevin was pleased. And in his pleasure he did reward His people, blessing them with goat cheese and tropical island cruises. And the followers of Kevin loved His creations, and doth drank the piña coladas, and did bathe in pineapple juice, and did snack on mango skins, and Kevin, being the Universal Creation Beast Master of the Universe, farted, and was pleased.

Chapter 1

Some men ask is there life after death Ozzy Osborne asked is there life after birth. I ask is life anything besides projecting our minds upon a blank reality that only exists because moody wills it to be. Here's a question I wonder how much different the world would be today if the roman emperor Constantine didn't make Christianity the religion of the empire. He brought an obscure Middle Eastern born religion into Europe where cultures had their own religions of earth and nature and elemental spirits. For example, the people of Gaul (France) had a very rich religion according to Caesars book Commentarii de Bello Gallico. Let alone how the course of history changed just because of Christian wars and Christian ideas about what was blasphemous research in the sciences and mind sciences. I leave you with this be a soul rebel look into all religions all philosophies and pick and choose what you like there is so much wisdom in each tradition from the jains of India to druids of the Celtic isles the mystical traditions of Christianity Judaism and Islam which are rosicursion the qabalistic teachings and the Sufis. to west African voodun and ancestor worship to the religions of the native Indians of North and South America to the religions of old the Greek and Roman pantheons the orphism the tao te ching, the story and path of Buddha (not the actual temple Buddhists because I think they have become as cut off from the world as Buddha was as a child) the great philosophers Socrates, Plato Aristotle and all the rest. Free your mind with all the knowledge and wisdom you can.

the land was filled with apathy and ignorance before Kevin's love shined upon the people of the world. Violence, anti social assholes and people who thought they were misunderstood but really just misunderstood themselves roamed the land not knowing what was missing. Once Kevin's light caressed their gentle weary minds the world knew bliss and sciences and art prospered flowers bloomed from piss covered sidewalks the hungry were full once more. Kevin's law went forth and enlightened his followers and filled them with bliss and a harmonious union of spirit, mind and body. The covenant was made and his followers went forth to bring more into the light and more soul power to invoke the will of Kevin. THE PRAYER OF HOLY KEVIN :OH HOLY KEVIN HOW THOU ART SO FRESH AND SMART LET YOUR UNCONDITIONAL LOVE SURROUND ME IF MY ENEMIES NEAR , LET YOUR UNDYING WISDOM ENLIGHTEN ME WHEN I STRAY LET ALL HEAR YOUR COMMAND OH HOLY KEVIN CHRIST GUIDE ME INTO THE LIGHT. AMEN ``said before and after rituals as to invoke his energy then banish it as to not tear reality``. I tell ye all go forth and do great things in the name of Kevin bring him glory and glory shall be yours also Kevin is you and you are Kevin. There is an old story about how Kevin drove a dude who was frontin insane. the dude said ``hey Kevin why don't your go fuck yourself`` to which Kevin the Christ replied ``how do you describe color`` the man looked puzzled then sat down and pondered every thought he would ever think and thought through every philosophy from every angle and for one moment he comprehended everything at once then started weeping and let his mind get the best of him. Kevin doesn't play games with weak minded fools like him. So saith high priest Dominic let thy will be done Kevin the Christ.
